

This Means War

Avenged Sevenfold

Hide my face again
Hover in the shadows
Feel this weight of sin
Hammer it away
Die with the guilt
Of a thousand evil soldiers
Die, watch the sight
Oh show me astray I can't go on this way
Not as I am today
The only side of me is strong
Take aim, my lonely gun
Hold back on all we run
A coward's truth inside the wrong This means war
This means war
This means war No home to call my own Lash your tongue of pain
Carry me to nowhere
Mental holocaust
Battle never ends
Light ash the pain
Of a child truthful seeking
Lie to my self
Brace the new regime I left me long ago
Presence you'll never know
No one to miss me when I'm gone
Within all my words to say
No longer meant to stay
Another post I don't belong This means war
This means war
This means war
This means war No home become my own
No finding someone new
No one to break the fall
No one to see me through
No name to carry on
No promise for today
No one to hear the call
No doubt ?? Walk the razors edge
Cutting to the madness
Question all you trust

Buy in to the fear
I see the man
Whipping on my soul now
I, I know the man
I know him all too well There's nothing here for free
Lost who I wanna be
My soup and blood can strike so cold
On any giving day
I'm take it all away
Another thought I can't control This means war
This means war
This means war
This means war
This means war
