The New Breed

Oh, Sleeper

Reclaiming thrones, our generation's pride Sits a conformist ploy to strip what burns inside And our bodies yearn to live life endlessly

So now we rise, we rise in mutinyWe make our stand here between the angels and animals

We fear nothing here

Where we can beat any feat set to keep us crawlingWe're calling you here to give leave to destruction of fear And stand tall against all who will dare to shake you

Don't let them shake you, shake youStand strong where I could not, please stand strong Oh please, this plea

Dear God, let it not from my lips be conceivedSo grip your fist and swing until your knuckles bleed If you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal"

We can't sit quietly 'cause there's more to life than we see

So if you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal in You"This is the call of the new breed

I want to feel what change your glory brings

Please teach me life lived fearlessly

And I swear I'll make a stand here

Between the angels and animals and fear nothingHere, where I can be more than mortal

And fight for a kingdom that answers to no one

But I just can't breathe without you in the air

And I won't so rip out these lungsAnd for my heart you can cut it from my chest

Oh God, if that's what You want, for me to feel life endlessly

I'll breathe Your blood for the rest of my lifeSo grip your fist and swing until your knuckles bleed

If you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal"

We can't sit quietly 'cause there's more to life than we see

So if you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal in You"We'll be death's dealers if that's where You lead

Anchored by glory we rise in mutiny

We are the new breed, we are the new breed

We've come alive and we are moving

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/