Red Balloon

Azure Ray

Your eyes, like mine, took me by surprise like summer rain

Knocked down, heart pounds, but my head keeps spinningI'll give all the love I've been saving up

I'll hold the red balloon as I fall deeper with you

You've got to know you bring joy to everything

Within the weeping willow treeStand proud, I'm out, out of this tired and lonely game

First time in my life I see my fate unfoldingI'll give all the love I've been saving up

I'll hold the red balloon as I fall deeper with you

You've got to know you bring joy to everything

Within the weeping willow treeYour light it came to us without a warning

You can't control the steady pace of morningI'll give all the love I've been saving up

I'll hold the red balloon as I fall deeper with you

You've got to know you bring joy to everything

Within the weeping willow tree
