

Severance

Piecemeal

Severance
The birds of leaving call to us
    Yet here we stand
    Endowed with the fear of flight
    Overland
The winds of change consume the land
    While we remain
    In the shadow of summers now past
    When all the leaves
    Have fallen and turned to dust

Will we remain
    Entrenched within our ways?
    Indifference
The plague that moves throughout this land
    Omen signs
    In the shapes of things to come
    Tomorrow's child is the only child
    Tomorrow's child is the only child
