Take

Modern Day Zero

(Go ahead and take all that you want from me!)Now that I am addicted to your innocence It doesn't make sense; that we would throw this all away

For once I'll agree to change my ways

A lapse of common sense has left us past tense

A sudden loss of breathe can we just get this over now

Why don't youGo ahead and take all that you want from me

I won't use it anymore

Go ahead and take all that you want from me

I won't be here when you want moreNow you've turned the page and your back on me

That's a book I'd rather read alone

Why don't youGo ahead and take all that you want from me

I won't use it anymore

Go ahead and take all that you want from me

I won't be here when you want moreDon't abuse me; don't use me; you'll lose me

And fall away

It's too late; and too far away; it's too much

To stay this wayGo ahead and take all that you want from me

I won't use it anymore

Go ahead and take all that you want from me

I won't be here when you want more

I won't be here when you want more You keep on taking away

Lyrics provided by

https://damnlyrics.com/