Either Way

Guster

You were almost kind, you were almost true

Don't let me see that other side of you

You have learned in time that you must be cruel

I'll have to wait to get the best of youPoison in everything you say

Don't you, don't you

Wonder what difference does it make?

Either wayYou were almost kind, you were almost true

Why give away that other side of you?

Happens every time so it must be true

Step on a kid he'll grow up hating youPoison in every thing you say

Don't you, don't you

Wonder what difference does it make?

Either wayWere you ever kind? Were you always cruel?

Who's ever seen that other side of you?

(Either way)

Happens every time so it must be true

Where did you learn it's either him or you? You were almost kind, you were almost true

Don't give away that other side of you

You have learned in time that you must be cruel

I'll have to wait to get the best of youPoison in everything you say

Don't you, don't you

Wonder what difference does it make?

Either wayEither way
