

Beatbox

Apoptygma Berzerk

A metronome beat keeps us in sync
For every new bar a different color blink
Sixteen led's flashing plus one next to gain
You copy and paste yourself into my brain
Patterns to be followed arrangements to be made
Tracks to be programmed new patterns to be laid
Loops that fit the beat in the same strain
You always find a way into my brain
From my brain to your chips
From your filters to my heart
We'll build a perfect groove you're playing them at the start
From the outlets to my ears through pleasure and pain
You always find a way into my brain
Oh no (Into my brain)
