Andromeda

Mastodon

It never ends
The game isn't done
I feel the crawling and haunting upon us until you listenIt never ends
Enough is enough
Taking your essence and use it to strengthen their own flesh and bloodTime watching as the sand flows through glass
Light calls to me from future and from pastThis kills me to know
We cannot learnIt never ends
The ink isn't dry
The Great Consolation has written a second lease on your life
The Great Consolation has granted a second lease on your lifeLight watching as the sand flows through glass
Time calls to me from future and from pastThis kills me to know
We cannot learnTime watching as the sand flows through glass (time is moving as sands flowing)
Light calls to me from future and from past (light is blinding radiating)It never ends, it never ends, it never endsChronic illusions, confusing conclusions
Foster the culture, predict the deception
Chronic delusions with caustic solutions
