Sin Crowd

Bob Hate

Sin Crowd

used to love my mama used to love my wife
used to love my country used to love my life
but not anymore

used to drive my car up on highway 91
park it on the side
and look up straight into the sun
but not anymore

love could have stopped me but itâ€™s too late love could have saved me but itâ€™s too late the last temptation of bobby hate

I used to pay my bills
used to pay my rent
now when I wake up
I donâ€™t care where it went

I used to pray to Elvis I used to pray to God Iâ€™d get down on my knees in the desert in the flog
but not anymore

used to have a dream I didnâ€™t want to die
now I sit and wait for you to close my eyes

in this darkened bar on this crystal night I can hear a voice saying â€œstep into the lightâ€™ not me, Iâ€™m in the sin crowd

love could have stopped me but itâ€™s too late
love could have saved me but itâ€™s too late
the last temptation of bobby hate

Â© Bob Hate 1995, 2003

Lyrics submitted by wt pfefferle.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/