

A World Without Heaven

Steve Harris

These days are sad and lonely
True love has passed me by
I want you one and only
Too bad these tears I cryHow many heartaches must we take
How many more times must we break
We've all been caught out in the rain
The rain will fall...
The rain will fallThese days of roaring thunder
Come crashing to our world
No trust no heart no saviour
No place to hide my girl
The cross keeps on burning like before
I don't want to see it anymore
This world of ours is worth fighting forA world without heaven
A world where the angels used to fly
A world where the rain falls
Now the rain is falling from my eyesThese days make me want to cry
These days we're all living a lie
We go through life and search for heavenThe wind blows wild and free now
Got to catch me a ride
My love come follow me now
Don't let my dream just die'Cause you may not get a second chance
Got to live life the best we can
Tonight I'll chase your nightmares away
From a world without heaven
A world where the angels used to fly
A world where the rain falls
Now the rain is falling from my eyesThese days make me want to cry
These days we're all living a lie
We go through life and search for heaven

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>