Early Winter

Gwen Stefani

You, you know how to get me so low
My heart had a crash when we spoke
I cant fix what you brokeAnd you, you always have a reason
Again and again this feelin'
Oh why do I give in?And I always was, always was one for cryin'
I always was one for tearsThe suns getting cold, its snowin'
Looks like an early winter for us
Looks like an early winter for us
An early winter, oh, I need you to turn me overIt's sad the map of the world is on you
The moon gravitates around you
The seasons escape youAnd I always was, always was one for cryin'
I always was one for tears
No, I never was, I never was one for lyin'
You lied to me all these yearsThe suns getting cold, its snowin'
Looks like an early winter for us
Looks like an early winter for us
An early winter, oh, I need you to turn me overWhy, why do you act so stupid?
Why, you know that Im always rightIt looks like an early winter for us
It hurts and I cant remember sunlight
An early winter for us
The leaves are changing color for usAnd it gets too much yeah it gets so much
Startin over and over and over again
And it gets too much yeah it gets so much
Startin over and over and over againAnd it gets too much yeah it gets so much (Well, it looks like an early winter for us)
Startin over and over and over again
And it gets too much yeah it gets so much
(It looks like an early winter for us)
Startin over and over and over again
