

You

Ed Sheeran

The thoughts I have could be clear ones and they can seem vivid but not near ones feather than limits I block her out so when I'm looking through my mind she ain't in it can I be free for a minute? Can I be me for a minute the thoughts I have could be dark ones even be smart ones, you know I'm going to have a couple straight from the heart once, tell you what I think I will until I depart mum it's you that I live for I'm the first and the last ones, I love you lots what better than thinking about the ones you love nothing much when your thinking about the ones you love I feel the same when I'm on the floor see the sun above unconditional Like
