

If I Was Your Lover

Elektrik People

Your eyes, your eyes I'm full of adrenaline
The very moment you walk in
Try to gain my composure but I'm nervous
And I know and I know and I know
You feel it too
Despite of who or who I have not been to you
I fucking hate meeting your new boyfriends
Pretend that I'm cool but I'm not okay Cause your eyes, your eyes
The remind me of the time
That time that I never had you
That I never had you
Girl If I was your lover, If I was your lover
We could be the worst for each other If I was your lover, If I was your lover
We could be the worst for each other
Never take you home to my mother If I close my eyes
I could be your everything
Even from this public train-
-wreck, that rides above my pay
While you be on that private plane Cause your eyes, your eyes
They remind me of the time
That time that I never had you
That I never had you
You better believe it girl If I was your lover, If I was your lover
We could be the worst for each other If I was your lover, If I was your lover
We could be the worst for each other
Never take you home to my mother
