

Now and Then

Don Williams

Now and then, a loser wins
Gets a winning hand, now and then
Once in a while the angels smile
And someone's life turns out just right
Now and then dreams come true
When someone like me
Is loved by someone like you. So many times I just couldn't believing
I'd never find the one to make my life worth living
But now and then miracles still happen
Oh I know they do cause I found you. It'll always be a mystery
That in all this world you chose me
It's good to know that now and then
It all turns around and there's really a rainbow's end
Now and then dreams come true
When someone like me
Is loved by someone like you
