

Creed

Owle

I know you trust in eternal gods but your dreams confess you're Flesh and blood
You're flesh and blood you feel so safe when stars shine on you reverse the the light to whom are you true To whom are you true you've got
you've got a creed
It's not a crime
one day you fall
one day you fly
up to the sky
you've got
you've got a creed
Unless you try
to live an everlasting lie
Up to the sky (you fly) to the sky (you fly) Life is too weird without mystical layers just use your sense to say your prayers Give credence to the beat of your heart Don't fear the dark despite all your Cracks despite all your Cracks you've got
you've got a creed
It's not a crime
one day you fall
one day you fly
up to the sky
you've got
you've got a creed
Unless you try
to live an everlasting lie
