

Castaway

Slowtide

Now my fears are fast asleep and I'm longing for a summer breeze and all my hopes and all my dreams are colourful but just a teaseNow where are you?
I'm calling out to the sea
hope that you're hearing me I need your companyCircles drawn across the sands like signs that guide the way ashore but here's the future in my hands and I know that I can ask for moreNow where are you?
I'm calling out to the sea
hope that you're hearing me
I need your company
And on the edge of insanity
I wish it would be clear to me why you're still not here

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>