Enam

What could go wrong I can't count the number of ways
You could be mauled or burned for starters
You could still drown in knee deep waters
That's enough to hold up and hide in this caveWhat could go wrong I can't count the number of ways
You could be struck by lightening walking
Look at the cross and your soul starts talking
Nothing prepares you for the freeze that's comingI won't dare, I won't dare
I think I feel a wicked breeze blowing
I won't dare, I won't dare
Nothing prepares you for the freeze that's comingI won't dare, I won't dare
I think I feel a wicked breeze blowing
I won't dare, I won't dare
Nothing prepares you for the freeze that's comingLights out and draw the curtains
I got the means
Wait patiently
I won't dare, I won't dareWait patientlyNothing prepares you for the breeze that's comingI won't care
I won't careI think I feel a wickid breeze blowingI won't dare
I won't dareLie down and drown your good dreams
I've got the meansI won't dare
I won't dareThat's enough to hold up and hide in the shadeLie down and drown your good dreams
Wait patiently
