

Incredibly Close

Miggs

Every moment passing breaks my heart a little more
Shatters pieces everywhere across the bedroom floor
As a distance wedges stuck between me and you
Leaves a gaping hole we fall into Any motion makes me feel a little bit sick
Blocking sadness also takes away the happiness
You're left to try and try to stand yourself up straight
You will bend but doesn't mean you have to break Every moment, every moment, every moment, every moment
Because I feel like I'm on fire, I'm trapped, trapped inside
Inside myself
Stuck in gear and I'm filled with fear screaming
Go, go, go, go, go Every breathing thing one day is going to stop, you know
It's all extremely loud and it's incredibly close
You feel surrounded but you still feel so damn alone
Keep on running, one day you must go home You can't love something more than something that you can miss
We pretend but there's no way around all of this Days they chain themselves one to the next and to the next
We suffer hope but know that this can't be fixed Every moment, every moment, every moment, every moment Do you have more things you need or don't Depends on what you need or don't
Because I feel like I'm on fire
Trapped inside myself
Stuck in gear and I'm screaming
Let's go, go, go, go, go, go
