

Falling Down the Mountainside

David Gray

Without a word
You set your sights to the sun
When all the world
You put your rights are still so wrong
Pin your heart out on your sleeve
Spouting all that make-believe
From your lips, it seemed it might come true
Falling down the mountainside
With you
The clothes you wore
The people stared
You look so strange
To see you move
Sing vital dance
Is in your veins
Never once afraid to know
What it feels like when you go
Out beyond where logic keeps the view
Falling down the mountainside
With you
Falling down
If you were here
First thing I'd do
Is knock you down
You left me cold
To meet your ghost
All over town
So grind the stone
And spin the wheel
Lock the doors on what you feel
Looking back just like I always knew
Falling down the mountainside
With you
Falling down the mountainside
With you
Falling down the mountainside
With you
Falling down the mountainside
With you
