Life Goes On

Shanti

everything's so simple when i'm with you my whole life feels brand new to wake up to your lovely face is nothing anything in this world could ever erase life goes on things go wrong seasons change life goes on i find myself staring at the phone drifting in and out of memories gone the nights were long and you were mine life seemed to slip through our hands like sands of time chorus and i walk along, i see what i've done and all, all that i've become and it's so simple will i get to see you again every night i sleep alone wondering when i'll feel your sweet caress your love is nothing that I could ever regret chorus (x3)
