

(when You're On) The Losing End

Neil Young

I went into town to see you yesterday
But you were not home
So I talked to some old friends for a while
Before I wandered off alone
It's so hard for me now but I'll make it somehow
Though I know I'll never be the same, won't you ever change your ways?
It's so hard to make love pay when you're on the losing end
And I feel that way again, yeah
Well, I miss you more than ever
Since you've gone I can hardly maintain
Things are different round here every night
My tears fall down like rain
It's so hard for me now but I'll make it somehow
Though I know I'll never be the same, won't you ever change your ways?
It's so hard to make love pay when you're on the losing end
And I feel that way again
It's so hard for me now but I'll make it somehow
Though I know I'll never be the same, won't you ever change your ways?
It's so hard to make love pay when you're on the losing end
And I feel that way again
