

Don't Look Backwards

East India Youth

A vacant, rising sun ablaze
That kind you'll never see again
Well it burns behind you
And casts your shadow there
But it's there to blind you
And keep your [?] So we don't look backwards
We don't look backwards now
No we don't look backwards
We don't look backwards now
The pain you felt is hanging down
And tangled in the ropes of now
Well we should unbind it
And let it fall to ground
And then we've [?]
[?] on holy ground And you won't look backwards
We don't look backwards now
No we won't look backwards
We don't look backwards now No we won't look backwards
We don't look backwards now
(These chains are here to hold you
Listen, they're right behind you)
No we won't look backwards
We don't look backwards now
(These shades are here to hold you
Listen, they're right behind you now)
So we don't look backwards
We don't look backwards now
No we don't look backwards
We don't look backwards now
