Eighty West

Hidden in Plain View

You've set me right tonight..... I'll find myself somewhere outside the lines.....but now everywhere seems like nowhere.....since that day I heard you say "I think its time I've let you go".....well maybe, someday we'll feel better off alone and we'll be better off alone.....
You've set me right tonight..... so the pedal's floored on this open road.....and I'll go where no one knows and feel alright to feel alone.....tonights the last night, one more time to set things right.....and this times the last time I wont come running back this time..... this time is the last time tonight I'll set it right

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/