Somebody Out There

Holly Valance

Who cares what I'm gonna do
Without you, without you
Who cares if I blow a few
I know you heard it all before
Without you, without you
I go run after dark
I'm doing fine without you
On my own
What do you expect of me
You used to run, used to be
(Now I know)
Got my own life without you
I've made it through
There's somebody out there
I paid my dues
And black and blue
And so confused
There's somebody out there
And so a few are born to lose
Getting me nowhere
I've made it through
I paid my dues
There's somebody out there
Who cares what you're gonna be
You're without me, you're without me
Who cares if you're coming clean?
You're without me, you're without me
You go run after dark
I think I heard it all before
I'm doing fine without you
(On my own)
What am I supposed to say
I'm used to all the games you play
I paid my dues

I'm doing all right without you
(Now I know)
I've made it through
There's somebody out there

And black and blue
There's somebody out there
And so confused
And all of you are born to lose
I've made it through
Getting me nowhere
I paid my dues
It's been weighing on my mind
And taking up my day
Then I opened up my eyes
I wanna take the time to find
Can you help me on my way
So if you push me down in time
I've made it through
I paid my dues
There's somebody out there
And black and blue
And all of you are born to lose
Getting me nowhere
I've made it through
I paid my dues
There's somebody out there
There's somebody out there
There's somebody out there
