

Paisley Overground

The Dreaming Spires

Tuned myself into a new kind of sound,
Dressed in an old paisley shirt that i found,
Buried at the bottom of a mystery chest,
Second hand certainly not second best.

Maybe i was 30 years late for that scene,
Or 10 years early, or caught in between.
They'll never again put a man on the moon,
An 12 string guitars are a devil to tune,
But maybe I'm gona get one soon.

Coz i love that time,
And the way they chime...

Out of the shadows,
Bursting through the windows,
Out from the underground,
Up to the higher ground,
Sunlight shines on you,
If you want it to.

It's so hard when your heart aches,
We can't even work the brakes,
Can't we learn from our mistakes,
Coz life won't wait for you,
And hate's too late for you,
Love will shine on you,
If you want it to.
If you want it to.

There are some secrets we can't understand,
And we just can't explain so we started a band,
Covered the scars in electric guitars,
Just trying to pretend that we're not who we are,
Just trying to pretend we're not falling apart..

But i feel your pain,
And I'd do it all again....

Out of the shadows,

Bursting through the windows,
Up from the underground,
Reaching for higher ground,
Sunlight shines on you,
If you want it to.

It's so hard when your heart breaks,
We get sold like real estate,
We get colder every day,
Love won't wait for you,
Hates too late for you,
Love will shine on you,
If you want it to
If you want it to
