Tonight

John Mellencamp

Well I get up in the morning have a smoke, have a drink
Then I get dressed
I don't want to get to work too late 'cause that boss man
He's a real mean son-of-a-bitchEverything is so fast and so crazy
But the day still slowly slips on by
Then that five O'clock whistle starts to blow
I'll be gone in a wink of an eyeTonight, I'm gonna see my baby again
And that long haired girl will be smiling when she sees me walkin' in Well all right, she looks so good that she just has to be a sin
Tonight, I'm gonna see my baby again, [Incomprehensible]We'll walk on over to the East Street Montgomery Pier
She says she likes holding something dangerous
She pulls me close and whispers in my ear
She says, "Come here little boy, I'll put my pussy right on your face"Because my fever is runnin' hot and high
And you're the boy that makes me feel like I'm aliveTonight, I'm gonna see my baby again
Well that long haired girl will be smiling when she sees me walkin' in Well all right, [Incomprehensible] yeah she's looking so damn good
That she just has to be a sin
Tonight, I'm gonna see my baby againWe're gonna go walking down
Take one look at it [Incomprehensible]Well all right, she looks so good that she just has to be a sin
Tonight
