

Too Far from Texas

Stevie Nicks

Theres a plane, its headed for London
24 hours more and hell be on it
And I cant show my love and I cant stop it
No, I cant stop itTheres a house there, somebodys waiting
Somebody elses arms will wrap around him
In that moment, what will he think then
When I cant touch himMaybe my love could fly over the ocean
Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone
All that I really know is that hes goin
Too far from Texas, too close to homeIn a room just outside of Houston
Thats where I spend my nights, trying to get through to him
He says hes coming back in every letter
But he might never
No, he might neverMaybe my love could fly over the ocean
Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone
All that I really know is that hes goin
Too far from Texas, too close to homeDoes he know how long
Ive waited for this love to come
Does he know Im holding on
And that wont change no matter where hes goneMaybe my love could fly over the ocean
Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone
All that I really know is that hes goin
Too far from Texas, too close to homeMaybe my love could fly over the ocean
Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone
All that I really know is that hes goin
Too far from Texas, too close to homeCouldnt I, couldnt I wait
Couldnt he, couldnt he stay
One more dayCouldnt I, couldnt I wait
Couldnt he, couldnt he stay
One more day
