Too Far from Texas

Stevie Nicks

Theres a plane, its headed for London 24 hours more and hell be on it And I cant show my love and I cant stop it No, I cant stop itTheres a house there, somebodys waiting Somebody elses arms will wrap around him In that moment, what will he think then When I cant touch himMaybe my love could fly over the ocean Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone All that I really know is that hes goin Too far from Texas, too close to homeIn a room just outside of Houston Thats where I spend my nights, trying to get through to him He says hes coming back in every letter But he might never No, he might neverMaybe my love could fly over the ocean Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone All that I really know is that hes goin Too far from Texas, too close to homeDoes he know how long Ive waited for this love to come

Does he know Im holding on

And that wont change no matter where hes goneMaybe my love could fly over the ocean Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone

All that I really know is that hes goin

Too far from Texas, too close to homeMaybe my love could fly over the ocean

Maybe my heart should try to leave him alone

All that I really know is that hes goin

Too far from Texas, too close to homeCouldnt I, couldnt I wait

Couldnt he, couldnt he stay

One more dayCouldnt I, couldnt I wait

Couldnt he, couldnt he stay

One more day

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/