Better Love

Hozier

[Hozier]
I once kneeled in shaking thrill
Chase the memory of it still, of every chill
Chided by the silence of the hush, the blind
Blind to the purpose of the brute divine
But you were mine
Staring at the blackness of some distant star
The thrill of knowing how alone we are Unknown we are
To the one and to the both of us
I confessed so long that I was dreaming of...Some better love, but there's no better love
Beckons above me and there's no better love
That ever has loved me, there's no better love
Darling, feel better love!
Feel better love!I've never loved a darker blue
Than the darkness I've known in you
Owned from you
You whose heart would sing of anarchy
You who'd laugh at meanings, guaranteeds, so beautifully
When our truth is burned from history
By those who've figured justice in fond memory
Witness me
Like fire weeping from a Cedar tree
Knowing that my love would burn with me
We'll live eternallyCause there's no better love
That beckons above me, there's no better love
That ever has loved me, there's no better love
So darling, feel better love
Cause there's no better love
That's laid beside me, there's no better love
Justifies me, there's no better loveSo darling, darling, feel better love
Feel better loveFeel better love....
Feel better love....
Feel better love....'Cause there's no better love
That beckons above me, there's no better love
That ever has loved me, there's no better love
So darling, feel better love
Cause there's no better love
That's laid beside me, there's no better love

Justifies me, there's no better love
So darling, darling, feel better love(Feel better love...)
