

Feel the Effect

Tokyo Police Club

I'm coming down,
And now I'm writing you back.
'Cause you got your heart broke,
I'll take the credit for that. But you're still a couple of twins on my eyes,
The way they reflect.
I made a lot of bad decisions
I feel the effect (x8) I turn around,
And now it's faded to black.
We left a few things unspoken.
Can we leave it at that? And I know that you've got the world on your side.
What did I expect?
I made a lot of bad decisions
I feel the effect (x8)
I'm feelin' I got a friend with a mohawk,
He's givin' terrible advice to me.
He's full of quick clips,
Has my future on his lips.
At least he's working on it, working on it,
Workin' for me. I got a friend with a limo,
He says he'll take me where I wanna go.
I'm rollin' with it,
But I'm callin' his shit.
Thinks he's a hero, he's a hero,
He's a hero for it. Twenty-six stories high,
Nothing but a silhouette.
Way up above, you're over it.
It's been a long time
I feel the effect
