Tribute To the Past (Remastered)

Gamma Ray

He had found a way to leave, to somewhere far from now
Traveling in his time machine a dream that had come true
Fly my friend, you will see, something called reality
I feel good, I'm alright, doing what I please - I travel timeFar beyond the rising sun I ride the winds of fate
Prepared to go where my heart belongs - back to past againI just want to save the universe for all mankind
He wants to save the future of the Earth
Step by step surroundings change as years go passing by
He only stops to gaze a little while
I push the button further on, I just can't get enough
I know I will return again but still I'm movin' onFar beyond the rising sun...As I'm movin' on I see things to come, I see tears and I hear laughter
Curiosity, comin' over me, what is next and what will happen
And I see the lies and I hear the cries and the marchin' of the people
As they go to war, Heaven knows what for - God I think I've had enough nowToo late, too late - I can't go back no more! I lost control of the engine
No light, no light - can't see where I have gone! Can't see where I have now gone to Where am I now - stranded in timeSo many years have passed since I had gone and I have seen what's gonna be But now I know it is useless to travel on
And I will return to the time and place I belong toFar beyond the rising sun.... [Repeat]

Songwriters
KAI HANSEN, JAN RUBACHPublished by Lyrics Â© THE BICYCLE MUSIC COMPANY

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/