Every Bone Broken

Cannibal Corpse

Die, shattered you'll die
Bones broken in half
Blood flowing freely
Limbs severed in hateBrains splattered, demise
Skin eaten in wrath
Eyes ripped from your head
Lie shattered, you dieFor believing you could be free
Weakness only invigorates me
These broken bones once yours I hold
'Cause of death will never unfoldTorn, mangled, and maimed
Life withers away
In hellish decay
Bones shattered, you dieFor not seeing things I could see
Your pummeled body strengthens me
These broken bones keep me aware
Of how I lust to shred and tearEvery bone broken is my only goal
Sucking the marrow of your fractured femurs
Every bone broken, your truculent toll
Succumbing to my offensive demeanorEvery bone broken enhances my soul
Your twisted corpse is contorted dead rot
Every bone broken, your life I stole
I'll kill again and I'll never get caughtThe snapping and cracking of skeletal remains
The pleasure of devouring decomposed flesh
The feeling of power from crushing your skull
The stench of decay overwhelming my brainI slaughtered your body and returned it to dirt
Not a trace of proof that you ever existed
Pure satisfaction through what I have accomplished
I'll kill again and I'll never get caught
