

Skin

Dead!

I'll stay for one more then I should get home but the taste of her lips are intoxicating.
See I'm not the man that you you think you see but your breath on my neck is so convincing. So I'll burn this night and I'll leave you charred, leave you battered, broken and scarred.
One hand on the clock and one hand on your hips, both hands for tell and they touch and they tick. She says she's fine, I tell her I'm a mess, I'm conscious of the fact I'm the best she'll get.
Oh I'm leaving this place alone tonight, argue with myself what's wrong and right. I make a fool of myself and I'm a fool for you, not a single word I've said has been true.
Your presence in my mind is now wearing thin.
Its getting cold out here, let me wear your skin. Is this how you'll go out
Is this how they'll remember you
Before my lights go out
I will learn to forget you
I'll learn to forget you I've acquired a taste for your bitter sight but there's no space for you in my mind.
Your eyes are cold and your words don't mean anything of value to me. I'm a rogue, I'm a boy, I'm a lifeless thing.
My veins pump blood that I cant bleed.
This is not the place I'm supposed to be lets choose this night Is to running free Is this how you'll go out
Is this how they'll remember you
Before my lights go out
I will learn to forget you
I'll learn to forget you Is this how you'll go out
Is this how they'll remember you
Before my lights go out
I will learn to forget you
Is this how you'll go out
Is this how you'll go out
Is this how you'll go out

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>