Red Alert

The Briggs

You're never gonna walk away from this
Nothing's gonna save your life
But you're waiting for the real apocalypse
But you couldn't see the lightYou find something to keep you satisfied
But not for as long as you'd like
So you find a vice to buy you some time
But you couldn't afford the priceNow you're in the same situation
That you were before you came
When it's all said and done
Will you still feel the same?Red alert
Run and hide, you're under attack
We're in a state of alert
Red alert
You've made your bed now there's no turning back
We're in a state ofYou're living a lie
Prepare to die
Time's turning out, it goes
Tick, tick, tick, tick goneNow you've backed yourself into a corner
Now you got no place to go
You thought that you found a new world order
But disorders all you knowYou've got plans for a revolution
But it's harder done than said
When you find out that it's just an illusion
You'd be better off deadNow you're in the same situation
That you were before you came
When it's all said and done
Will you still feel the same?Red alert
Run and hide, you're under attack
We're in a state of alert
Red alert
You've made your bed now there's no turning back
We're in a state ofYou're living a lie
Prepare to die
Time's turning out, it goes
Tick, tick, tick, tick goneMaking allegations, complicating situations
You thought, you made a name for yourself
But you're to blind to see
That you didn't change anything at allHide your head from the bed you made yourselfRed alert
Run and hide, you're under attack

We're in a state of alert
Red alert
You've made your bed now there's no turning back
We're in a state ofYou're living a lie
Prepare to die
Time's turning out, it goes
Tick, tick, tick, tick goneBleeding heart, a dying soul
Staged as revolution
But your mind don't change
You still feel the same
Another false solution
