

Across The Miles

The Hooker Family

All around this world I travelled
Through it all I've come to find
The ties that bind can come unraveled
I'd have to face some lonely times
But when I'm tired and feeling low
Oh! what a comfort it is to know

Across the miles
There's someone praying for me
Across the miles
There's someone on their knees
Lifting my name to the Lord above
In joy and pain, I can feel the love
And see you smile
Across the miles

Life can be so complicated
As I travel down each road
When kindred hearts are separated
It gives us each a chance to grow
And even though I'm so far away
Oh I'm reminded everyday

(rep. Chorus 2x)

Lyrics Submitted by Pamela Deso-Asido

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>