Little Fighter

White Lion

Are you cryin' tonight?
Are you feelin' all right?
I told the world that you were down on your luck
You were one of a kind
One who'd never give it up
Even when they put a price on your head
Has anyone heard the tales you tell
Or seen the scars you wear?
Did anyone speak up when you fell?
Does anybody care?
Rise again, little fighter
And let the world know the reason why
Shout again, little fighter
And don't let it impair the things you do
And you were one with the courts
And a reason to be
You were a fighter for peace on this Earth
And you were never afraid
You put your life on the line
And you were always so long out on the sea
Without a weapon in your hand
You came to fight a war
They took your life but didn't know

That you will never die
Rise again, little fighter
And let the world know the reason why
Shout again, little fighter
And don't let it impair the things you do
Are you feelin' all right?
'Cause I care, care
Run along, little fighter
Oh, 'cause I was there beside you
Never stop believin', so rise
Rise, rise
Rise again, little fighter
And let the world know the reason why
Shout again, little fighter
And don't let it impair the things you do

Rise again, little fighter
(Don't stop believin')
And let the world know the reason why
Shout again, little fighter
(And keep on movin')
And don't let it impair the things you do
Yeah, don't let it ever end the things you do

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/