

In the Movie of You

TCP

Take 1 action! The light is just right, the shadows are in
Your movement is sultry get closer, your love is for him
Theres glare upon your pale face, just raise your chin
The part is full surrender, let the story begin Honesty you give, receive,
Always be you
Let your eyes be windows, through the crowd crescendo
In the moment let go
Can you feel them watching you
Just forget theyre watching you You are what you are youre a celluloid star,
If your fame takes you far, more than beauty you are interlude The clock is turning backward in the movie of you
The scenes are growing awkward is it possibly true
You lost your self for fear of falling from the stardom you knew
They sold your sex, your face, your body and you couldnt refuse Your name in lights wont last forever
But you lust to be news
And when the audience cheered how clever!
Then your fantasy grew Ha hey shouldnt we kiss?
Sa say dramatics Succumb to beg, steal or borrow
Get your studio picture to play
In a false life of fakeness to follow
Where oblivion blows you away Dont cry (cut... cut),
Your eyes call makeup! Win praise for skill and ambition
The remarkable faces you make
Shoot thru your depression conditions
Miss Fanatical please take the stage
No no no! I saw you change from dreamer to heartache - bad publicity blues
The camera keeps rolling darling in the movie of you Vivling hear me now
I dont want to lose you to someone else somehow
I dont want to share you on the silver screen Honesty you give, receive
Always be you
Let your eyes be windows through the crowd crescendo
In this moment let go Can you feel me watching you
Dont forget Im watching you
