

On the Air Tonight

Colin Blunstone

Here we are,
Must be somewhere
But you don't seem to know the faces
You'll survive,
This hurt inside
It's only love's changing places
Nobody ever knows the way you feel
Nobody ever knows but you
On the air tonight
On the air tonight
On the air tonight
In the light,
In the shadow,
In between the feeling grows
On the edge of tomorrow
But tomorrow never knows
No matter where you are,
Or what you do
Nothing will ever change, but you
On the air tonight (3x)
Take a rose,
Call it sorrow,
But it's a rose by any other name.
And so it goes and we will follow
A petal scattered in the falling rain
Nobody ever knows the way you feel,
Nobody ever knows but you.
On the air tonight (3x)
