

Cast the First Stone

Slayer

When war cries echoing all begin
Never know any other way to fight, just win
Blood on the enemy, with dependencies due
You know that sacrifice starts with you
Cast the first stone
Standing my way
Impedance you owe
With blood you will pay
Live for battle, the intensity knows no fear
Your defiance will prove severe
Choke your own blood, beaten in pain
Realize you now find it all in vain
Cast the first stone
Standing my way
Impedance you owe
With blood you will pay
When war cries, and it sacrifices you
If you feel that sweeping everywhere I want
Like a devastating fire every time I cough
Man infested component you can't stop
A block of granite on my shoulder you can't knock off
Cast the first stone
Standing my way
Impedance you owe
With blood you will pay
In fields of blood you will pay?
