

Impatience

Matthew Ebel

I'm not calming down
What's this all about?
All I know is I don't need this tone you're taking Forget what I said
 For every promise kept
There's a thousand I don't even know I'm making
 So it's time that you stop being so impatient
 Oh, it's time that you stop being so impatient
 Your philosophy
 Is totally lost on me
Well, I promise I don't mean to have you waiting
 And that attitude
 Won't do any good
When the problem's only as real as you've made it

So it's time that you stop being so impatient
Oh, it's time that you stop being so impatient
 Why not try to take it down?
 You're gonna have to wait this out
 Or tell me now where the fuckin' fire is
 Your philosophy
 Is totally lost on me
Well, I promise I don't mean to have you waiting
 And that attitude
 Won't do any good
When the problem's only as real as you've made it
 So it's time that you stop being so impatient
 Oh, it's time that you stop being so impatient
You're so impatient, you're so impatient, you're so impatient
