

It Means Nothing

Sean Fournier

Well I've seen mountains crumble to the wicked sea.
And I've had angels cry for me and cry for me.
And I've seen stars fall by the thousands like they were finally free.

And I've seen men fight like there's no tomorrow and wake up with the sun and still not smile,
but after all that we've been through,
it means nothing without you and we will be together.

This love can move a mountain and I've wished on every star.
This love can stop a war
and let you find out who you are,
but after all that we've been through,
it means nothing without you
and we will be together forever.

I've seen skies reflect the ocean and I've heard someone's prayers whispered in the wind.
And I've seen crowds fall silent and all you've left to do is look around

This love can move a mountain
and I've wished on every star.
This love can stop a war
and let you find out who you are,
but after all that we've been through,
it means nothing without you
and we will be together forever.
