Dos

Fireside

You're still too far from me
Only now in real life
Guess I'll never been this free
Guess it's time to realizeWhen you left your life collection
Was it planned for me to see?
And I took the first moment
Just to not let it beAnd I blame, I blame it all
It all on meThere was something in that mind
Something vanished and gone
And I just couldn't follow
What was going onWhen I tore apart your picture
It was just 'cause it was old
But I put it all together
Just like I was toldI'd never pictured that about you
My home's no more immune
You brought me my enemy
Just like I told you not toAnd nothing in this world
Can wash it clean
And I dont wanna be able
To see how that could have beenAnd I blame, I blame it all
It all on meHeadacher, painful
Heartbreaker, beautiful
So I turn out all the lights
And I sleep with open eyesHeadacher, painful
Heartbreaker, beautiful
So I turn out all the lights
And I sleep with open eyesHeadacher, painful
Heartbreaker, beautiful
So I turn out all the lights
And I sleep with open eyes
