

Never See Me Again

Vivian Girls

I had a really hard time walking down the street knowing you wouldn't walk next to me
And after all this time to get you out of my head
Why did you think you'd miss me again?

It took me so long to finally understand that you can't be around
But now you're here again, this isn't what we planned
Why did you think you'd miss me again?

Spent so much time without you since you went away
It felt okay. But now you're here again to take my breath away.

I had a really hard time getting out of bed thinking bout all the things you said
And after all this time to get you out of my head
Why did you think you'd miss me again?

Why did you come here again?
