

No No No

Crispian St. Peters

She has two lips that start a fire two eyes that see it glow
Two ears that I hear I love you but no heart got love to know
She has two arms that hold me close, two hands caress me so
Too many lies she whispers with no heart for love to know Everyone she uses, till she's had her fun
Thinks she never loses by keeping on the run So here I am a lonely man with nothing left to show
I tried to love a woman with no heart for love to know Soon you'll have to answer. Quickly life does pass
Why there's no reflection in your looking glass
So play your game each time you can you'll reap the seeds you sow
Your life will soon be empty with no heart for love to know
