Downpour

Converge

My faith runs thinner than water for every wish had a name and every heart had a fracture With every fear there was someone, somwhere who loved before, who hoped before Someone who cried out ten thousand oceans and someone who bled out the evening in search of you They carried hope thick in their visions and they held you deep in their chests You said this would be nimble and painless I'm sorry, that's not what i have found Devil stay away from me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/