

Too Weak To Resist

Steps

We stood before our friends
And pledged eternal love
To have and to hold
We both meant every word
And spoke of one above
Love could not grow old But then I found myself
So many nights with time my only friend
And I only saw it in your eyes
Too late to make amends, darling Time can be a healer or time can divide
I never meant for anyone to take you from my side
But I'm just a man
(Just a man)
And it comes down to this
I was just too weak to resist If only I had known
I'd caused you so much pain
I would not have strayed
And though I promise you
I'll never fall again, baby
I must lie in this bed that I've made And though I'm hurting you
I swear it was the last thing on my mind
And I found myself on my own
One too many times, darling Time can be a healer or time can divide
I never meant for anyone to take you from my side
But I'm just a man
(Just a man)
And it comes down to this
I was just too weak to resist

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>