

When You Gonna Change

Brown Boy

baby don't dont dont play me again baby don't dont dont hurt me again

it started off girl, it started off young i guess you can say that we were foolish, we were dumb i knew it in my heart that i was falling in love cuz all my friends used to tell me, damn you gettin sprung i really did think that you were the one but as the years went by, things started to change there i was giggling about the games that i had played with many girls but im not saying no names i even took our favorite picture out of the frame there was no more hurt, and no more pain i was lovin the life i was messing with these girls every single night but i knew i wasn't living right i can't take it no more, i'm packing my bags i'm out the door, cuz love don't live here tell me boy when you gonna change tired of your lies tired of your games the love we had jus aint the same

old school love like atari girl, yeah i know i did you wrong, and i'm sorry girl i really did think that we'd be together forever tattoo our names but now it's like wateva you always used to tell me don't hurt me again it was a teenage love, it was all pretend when you run around girl, i was gettin at your friends i guess i was a player, playin the field i should of cared more about how i made you feel cuz the love we built was falling apart i could see it in your eyes that i was breaking your heart i know i'm the blame for playing all these games

i'm out the door, cuz love don't live here anymore
tell me boy when you gonna change
tell me boy when you gonna change doin me wrong for a long long time your hard to play with your no longer mine you broke my heart into two...two you played me for a fool...fool if i could turn back the hands of time you know i would take everything i did bad and change it to good i would never make you cry i would never tell you lies nomore late nights hangin with the guys in thee end it dont make things right cuz i never should of left you for the girl i liked can't expect you to wait, cuz i know it in my heart it's just too late it just too late

tell me boy...soul radio
when you gonna change
