

Salt

Admiral Fallow

Sifted through the library of the lost ten years and there hasn't, I don't suppose, been a moment we can hold as close as the night we kicked off your clothes and swam in the saltI wish a deep and early grave to the collection of moments I caved Whether they were minute or massive waves

As I lay in the bed we made, swallowed whoreSoon we'll leave this place for not a full stop but parentheses
The most lovely of life sentences All I wanted was to mention this, you're here in my heart!.....
