Less Than Nothing

Demon Hunter

I suffocate, reality is tearing my life away
All in vain, I'm taking my pride into the graveWhat a fine line we walk with our eyes closed
Giving our worst as first like we don't know
Burning my way through life with a vengeance
Giving my weight in hate until the neck bends
Tearing out every trace of emotion
Falling into this cell that you've opened
Hollow as all these faces around me
Feeling your fatal infection surround meWe all live in fear of something
We all disappear like nothing
We all live in fear of something
We all equal less than nothingI suffocate, I'm taking my life from first to last
All this hate, is dragging my face through broken glassHow can we be so blind in the same light?
Covering all these scars that we can't hide
Feeling my way through thorns of rejection
Bleeding out all this filth of infectionWe all live in fear of something
We all disappear like nothing
We all live in fear of something
We all equal less than nothingNothing
Nothing
We're nothing
Nothing
