It's not the weather, to wear no sweater..[Chorus] Sometimes she changed like the weather But no one loved me better I'll never ever forget her My brand new sweater Nobody got her wetter She told me in her letter I bought her food and fed her My brand new sweater[Shock-G] Baby said, "Ooh baby shoo-be-dooh Let's hook up again cause the loving is cool" I said "Yo, I gotta go, I got a show" She said "I know, after the show let me cook for you If you're hungry, you never know You might need help with your laundry Don't hesitate to call upon me Before you go, would you meet my mother She lives right around the corner It's not a bother, meet my mother!" I said "Woah, woah, woah, baby slow it down I said I gotta go, I ain't say I'm leaving town I got your number, stop tripping Why're you flipping? Had a great time Let me get my jacket, I'm dipping." Hate, hate, hate the way I felt like I dissed her "Wait, wait, wait" cried the pretty, young sister She said, "Shock, while I got this chance I've got let you know that if you rip your pants I'll beee there, to sew the hole for your butt Want a nut? Call me up, I'll pick you up in my jetta No one's got me wetter Shock, I never got freaked better!" She said "Here, yo, it's all in my letter" See, I just met baby last night We g'd While I was sleeping she was up Creeping around writing letters to me

Man, I hate somebody all up in my face when I'm sleep But I ain't sweating it "Look, I'll hook-up with you next week"

She said "Wait, let me walk you to the street, baby

Sweet thang, don't forget to ready my letter!"-ac
